The publisher regrets the discrepancy.
